INTRODUCTION

It has often been said that money does not bring happiness. While it can ease certain hardships and provide comfort, money alone does not create a sense of fulfillment. Nor does it automatically make a person feel rich. One individual may feel abundant with very little, while another feels deprived despite great wealth. In fact, money worries do not always disappear with accumulation—more often, they simply change form, and at times even intensify.

In modern life, an increasingly clear connection can be seen between integrity and finance. Money is not only a powerful cultural symbol, but also an undeniable force in our everyday lives, as reflected in the prominence of financial and business news. It touches nearly every aspect of how we live, choose, and define success.

This report explores key indicators in your horoscope that reveal your instinctive relationship with money. At times, the descriptions may not fully align with your current experience, and occasionally there may appear to be contradictions. Nevertheless, each insight carries meaning. By reflecting on these astrological patterns, you can deepen your awareness of how money operates in your life and how closely it is tied to your personal values and inner world.

Through this awareness, you may also begin to recognise the attitudes and beliefs about money that have been shaped over time, particularly those formed in early life. Some of these patterns may no longer support you. By bringing them into consciousness, you create the opportunity to release limiting perspectives and cultivate a more positive and aligned relationship with money, what might be called a healthier money mindset. Money is far more than a simple commodity—it is a symbol of value, worth, and meaning. It is rare to encounter someone who feels entirely indifferent toward it. Whether consciously or unconsciously, money matters. Its influence reaches beyond material concerns into psychological and emotional realms.

The word “money” itself originates from the Latin “moneta”, meaning mint. In the 3rd century BCE, the Romans established a mint at the temple of Juno Moneta, where coins were produced for centuries. The goddess was depicted holding scales in one hand and a cornucopia in the other, symbols of balance, judgment, and abundance. This imagery reminds us that money has always carried deeper symbolic roots, representing not just wealth, but the weighing and distribution of value.

In your own life, money plays both a practical and symbolic role. As a psychological force, it is part of a larger inner landscape—complex, nuanced, and deeply personal. Like all symbolic energies, your relationship with money is intertwined with your sense of identity, security, and purpose. In this sense, it becomes part of your life path, or fate.

Becoming more conscious of your relationship with money allows you to recognise patterns, make more aligned choices, and engage with life more fluidly. Gaining this understanding can help you move beyond inherited conditioning and into a more authentic and resonant way of relating to money, one that supports both your material and inner wellbeing. Ultimately, this report is designed to help you explore what money truly represents in your life such as what you value, how you assign worth, and how these themes connect to your deeper purpose. Through this awareness, you are invited to move toward a more conscious, meaningful, and empowered relationship with money.

YOUR MONEY TEMPERAMENT

"There are people who have money and there are people who are rich."
Coco Chanel, French Fashion Designer

This section reflects on your Sun, Moon and Rising Sign (or Ascendant). The trinity of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant depict character and temperament. In this section each is considered separately, based on your Horoscope's perspective on money. In the last section of this report all three are blended into an ancient formula known as the Part of Fortune.

In your Birth Chart the Sun depicts a driving force and is key to your identity and distinctiveness. This section does not interpret your Sun Sign in general terms, but is referring specifically to how it shapes your attitude to money and possessions. In a way the Sun is indicative of what you value, what emphasis you place on money and possessions and your ability to attract riches. Being "rich" means different things to different people; therefore, this section outlines what you value, how you might feel rich. Money does not always equal a feeling of being rich. Perhaps you value freedom more than you value money? Maybe you feel rich when you are surrounded by friends and plain simple fare? On the other hand, perhaps security and money are most important.

Your Sun Sign can indicate an ability to attain great wealth; For instance, your Sun in the Sign of Capricorn, Taurus or Aries could indicate great wealth. Each of these Zodiac Signs has different traits that attract wealth in different ways. If your Sun resides in one of the Angular Houses (mentioned below in this report) then you also have the ability to be wealthy. The idea is that the Sun shines its light either dimly or brightly on the wealth sectors of your Birth Chart. The placement of your Sun also shows you how you shine in the world. If you are shining brightly then you are likely to attract health, wealth and happiness. You glow and are rewarded. Your warmth, goodwill and confidence attract attention and you are able to attract riches.

The Moon can also be a strong driver when it comes to financial matters, especially psychologically and emotionally. Emotions and money are strongly linked. "Retail therapy" is commonly acknowledged as an antidote to a "down" day, yet managing emotions with material band-aids is rarely going to address the underlying forces. While an understanding of your own emotional nature is vital for self-acceptance it is not part of this report's purpose. In this section the Money report outlines how your Moon and your emotions can influence your spending habits. When it comes to money your Moon can either help or hinder your ability to successfully handle money matters. Also what does money mean for you? What emotional need does it satisfy? Do you see money as a means of freedom, or does it provide security? Does money represent love? Do you feel more loved when someone shares their resources? These are the types of questions to ask and which your Moon will help you understand.

When reading this report take the best traits from both your Sun and Moon Signs and combine them to help you understand your value system and your emotional needs when it comes to money. This helps you learn how you can best approach your own attitude to money, your spending habits and how to invest. If your Sun and Moon are in the same Zodiac Sign then you reinforce the message and you need to look to your Ascendant to see how to best move forward.

Your Ascendant is outlined as a beacon that points to your purpose in life. While money is an important component it is rarely the source of true happiness. Your Ascendant depicts how you can find purpose and meaning in your life. This helps you inject your material world with spiritual values. Health, wealth and happiness are all derived from living a worthy life. A meaningful life is one which incorporates spiritual values, not just monetary ones. True joy is often felt when you are living in sync with your soul's purpose. This report focuses on money and its place in your Birth Chart and life, but true meaning also comes from living true to yourself. Your Ascendant is a primary signpost which guides you to a life of true worth.

The Sun is in Capricorn

Capricorns are one of the most highly successful Zodiac Signs when it comes to accumulating money. This is because most Capricorns value status and the security which large amounts of money can provide. You also have the ability and the ambition to climb mountains, both literally and metaphorically speaking. You can climb the corporate ladder, invest in your own business, or invest wisely in stocks and/or the property market. You are wise, hard-working, steady, and cautious and have an incredibly sharp sense of timing. When you are younger you are likely to seek out the company of older people, keen to learn from their experiences. You have a clear sense of purpose when it comes to matters of money. All of these are the prerequisites for material success. Add this to the fact that you value material success and you have a winning formula for achieving your ambitions. Of course, you need to be careful of who you step on or over to reach your objectives. Capricorns are not known for soft feelings, but other people's feelings do come into the equation. People are not always logical and while an act of acquiring money or status might seem rational to you, it may not be the most sensitive approach and therefore, may cause more problems in the long-run. Fortunately for you, you are not overly concerned. You are generally quite happy with your own company, achieving your own objectives and pursuing your own activities. When it comes to possessions, the things that money can buy, then you are likely to enjoy the finer things in life. You are not wasteful but you enjoy quality. You know the value of working and saving for something that is of true value, rather spending your money on fripperies. When you purchase something of value you are not prompted by a need for "keeping up with the Joneses" but rather the satisfaction that can be gained from owning something elegant and useful. In some cases, Capricorns can suffer financial hardship early in life which leads to a focus on material security. It certainly can lead to an appreciation of the finer things in life. As you mature you are likely to enjoy building a solid foundation for yourself and anyone for whom you feel responsible. While you do like the finer things in life, you are also able to be frugal when the need arises. For this reason, and others already mentioned, you are well able to ride the storms of any financial crisis. You are better equipped than most. Success breeds success. It is an old adage but it is tried and true. When it comes to investing you could be drawn to trading, property and possibly also rare coins. Square Pennies, pre-decimal proofs, quality colonial material, high quality George V banknotes etc may appeal. Whatever your choice of investment you are able to survive and thrive through both gloomy and buoyant economic times.

The Sun is in the 5th House

You certainly shine when it comes to creativity, fun and sheer pleasure in all that life has to offer. However, this placement of the Sun in the 5th House of your Birth Chart is not a strong indicator of monetary wealth. This placement can depict that you value artistic endeavours, creative projects and fun-filled activities more than monetary wealth. Life is for living. Depending on other aspects of your Birth Chart you may be a risk taker, a speculator, someone who loves nature, children, the arts, and fashion. If you do value money then it is likely to be as a vehicle that enables you to pursue your own talents, support other people's, purchase beautiful possessions or take part in pleasurable activities. Traditional astrologers state that this placement can mean gain from children, gifts, clothing, banquets, theatres, inns, sports and leisure activities. These are all likely to be areas of life that you enjoy with or without money. For instance, you may love reading. "Isn't it fun exploring the resources of a free library or perusing the shelves of a second-hand book shop"? "Does one really have to purchase a new and shiny book?" In your case, the library and the second-hand book shop make much more sense. Another person may prefer a shiny new cover and book and be prepared to pay the full cost. Colour, laughter, love, and new discoveries are likely to hold more meaning for you than ready cash, unless it falls easily into your hands and can give you more colour, laughter, love and new discoveries. One other way of looking at this placement can be that you want to make money from your creative gifts. Your artistic talents can be a source of income depending on other aspects of your birth chart.

The Moon is in Virgo

What an economical person you are. Economy of words, actions and behaviour are your forte. You are also excellent at paying attention to details. You often, more often than you would like, find details that others have overlooked. You are intelligent, practical and prudent. All of these traits mean that you are very frugal and economical when it comes to the daily finances. Your utility bills are so modest that they could be held up as an example for more excessive members of society. The fact is that you value moderation in all things. This can be highly desirable when it comes to creating and adhering to a budget, but your very modesty can stand in the way of you attracting great sums of money. Of course, you can earn a modest sum of money and are likely to be a highly valued employee. However, your cautious nature indicates that you are unlikely to take part in risky investments, small or big business or any financial scheme. While others experience the highs and lows of big ventures and big expenditure, you enjoy a frugal and exemplary budgetary plan. Ironically you may work for others helping them with their finances. It is not uncommon to find a Virgo bookkeeper, accountant or tax collector. You also make an excellent personal assistant, secretary or receptionist. Any task that requires efficiency is likely to see you excel. When it comes to your possessions you are also likely to be vigilant. Once you have made a purchase then you are likely to look after what is yours for a very long time. For this reason, you may receive and value heirlooms. On the other hand, once something has outlived its usefulness you are likely to pass it on. Unlike your Taurean cousin you are not a hoarder. The thing is most Virgos don't value money and possessions. You do not share a passion for the material world, but rather for being of value to your community. You value intelligent application of skills, making a contribution to society and living a goodly life. Even if you are struggling financially, knowing you are following your higher priorities can usually make the struggle more bearable. Your idea of being rich is to know, within yourself, that you are leading a life true to your own very high ideals.

The Ascendant is in Virgo

Caution is a keyword for your Virgo Ascendant. Perhaps you are a cautious person from birth. Alternatively another side of your nature may dictate that you learn discrimination as you mature. Either way this Ascendant is asking that you make it your duty to put your analytical powers to good use. You are unlikely to be happy if you take no action at all. Imagine staying in the same job for an entire working life simply because you lacked the courage to step into the unknown, or the self-worth to apply elsewhere? This is unthinkable for many other members of the Zodiacal circle but not for anyone with strong Virgo. Your strength is that once you put your mind to something then you can achieve it. You've a quiet, reserved, retiring and receptive side to your nature but you can also be quietly determined. Although you're not strongly ambitious you do persevere to accomplish your goals in life. You're economical, thrifty, hygienic, and tidy in body and mind. Order and precision are your preferred modes of self-expression, and you like other people to follow your lead. You lead by example and when others follow you are satisfied. Your fate could largely depend on your circumstances, but is likely to be linked to your organisational ability. Your intellectual ability could also feature strongly in your life, perhaps through research. When it comes to money you are also cautious. This can be a positive indicator if other parts of your Birth Chart (and therefore, your personality) are reckless. However, you do need to take some risks in life, even small ones. Your fulfilment is likely to come from being of service to others. You need to discover which area of service is likely to give you the most joy, not for security or monetary reasons, but for sheer pleasure. This is allowed even for the most dutiful of Virgos. If you would like to focus on a positive affirmation connected to money then with your Virgo Ascendant you could use this one from "Creating Money – Keys to Abundance" by Sanaya Roman and Duane Packer "I know what I love to do and I do it".

YOUR RELATIONSHIP WITH MONEY

"Money is usually attracted, not pursued."
Jim Rohn, American Entrepreneur

Venus

Intrinsic to Venus is beauty. During her perfectly symmetrical cycle she is brightly visible in morning and evening skies at different times. Her disappearance out of the western skies and resurrection in the east led the ancients to see her as a dual goddess of both heaven and earth. Venus is pleasure and beauty, both in body and in spirit.

In astrological tradition Venus symbolises what is attractive, pleasurable, beneficial and advantageous. Her heavenly and earthy aspects shine through her connection with the Zodiac Signs Libra and Taurus. In her earthy Taurean domain she embodies the values and resources of the material world representing what you find attractive as well as your ability to be attractive. Venus is the law of attraction placing value on what is worthwhile; therefore, energetically attracting what is of substance. Being aligned with resources, treasures, fortunes and ornaments, Venus became associated with money as a commodity of exchange. On an economic level Venus symbolises money, as the unit of trade. Venus is relationship-orientated; hence money implies exchange and trade. Money invites us to forge a relationship with what we find attractive, pleasurable and worthy, not only materially, but psychologically and spiritually as well. Venus's two sides make a whole; in her spirited and aesthetic side, she needs a soulful relationship with the material world. In this way she represents an inner sense of worth and value that yearns to be appreciated, honoured and respected. In psychological jargon this is your self-esteem, your inner worth, innate values and authentic merit. Venus symbolises the process of becoming worthy and deserving to feel abundant, pleased and prosperous.

Being the goddess of sexuality and love, Venus also focuses on relating. Venus themes in relationship centre on shared values, feeling loved and appreciated, pleasure, affection and sensuality. Therefore, Venus's archetypal pattern often gets entangled in issues of both love and money, as popular song lyrics often illustrate. Are diamonds really a girl's best friend? Is it true that money can't buy me love? Can money compensate or substitute for love? Venus' rulership over money is multidimensional: on the material level it is cash and currency, stocks and bonds, funds, investments, assets, capital, diamonds and gold. On other levels it is your personal values and inner aesthetics. On a deeper soulful stratum it is in your self-acceptance and self-love where money's taproot finds its sustenance.

Following is a reflection on the Zodiac Sign of your Venus in your Birth Chart including what you might be attracted to and what you attract to you. What are your money patterns, issues and strengths? Venus too symbolises your authentic attitudes to deeply-held personal values, internal worth, self-esteem and your capacity to love. Ironically it is this capacity to love and give freely that is the key to the lock on your money vault. Let's consider your Venus sign as a metaphor for your personal law of attraction and your innate relationship and attitudes towards money and values.

Venus is in Capricorn

This combination exudes quality. Both the material and spiritual sides of Venus appreciate class, but Capricorn is an earthy sign so let's concentrate on her realistic side. Let's be frank: you probably are successful at what you do in your occupation, as you do it with dedication and responsibility. However, it may not be as soul satisfying as you want. You value what is practical and secure; therefore, you might need other ways outside the work environment to satisfy the soul. Depending on the other aspects in your chart and your personality, your relationship with money needs to be realistic and sensible. From a monetary point of view, you are better-suited to conventional and longer term growth investments as you value the passing of time. You appreciate the assurance of long-term growth. Deep in your bones you know that nature has its cycle of growth and each species has its time to mature. Knowing the period of maturity is reassuring, whether that's the term of a fixed deposit, the length of a mortgage or the natural harvest cycle for your investment in crops. Consciously investing with time in mind works well for you.

Given the choice you are going to buy items of good value, ones that are expensive, rather than ones that are on sale. Sometimes you would rather do without than buy an inferior product. Therefore, money is important in helping you acquire what you appreciate and like. Sometimes that means working for money in order to feel secure and to be able to afford what you enjoy. Time is also a valuable commodity for you and one of the things you value is your appointment book and your diary. If not, it is worthwhile investing in your schedule so you are able to make boundaries between company time and your own. Once you start valuing your own time, others will. Reflect on how you might value your own personal time more, as well as how you place a value on your time at work.

You also value autonomy, self-sufficiency and being your own boss. This combination may lead you into self-employment, which you probably desire. Here it is even more important to recognise the value of time and the boundary between work and personal life. While you would value self-employment, you need to weigh that up with the immense responsibility of it all. But on your side, you value hard work, dedication and commitment and this trinity of values will help you forge a profitable private business. Many successful private enterprises start out modestly in one's own time and slowly build into a viable enterprise. Planning, timing, hard work and facing difficulty are all part of it, but good news is you value and appreciate this as you are aware of what it can provide.

You value tradition, commitment and responsibility and therefore, what brings success is your dependability and high standards. Rules, boundaries and regulations are important as they structure and contain what is of value to you. You need to see, feel and know what you are doing is of worth; therefore, feeling well trained and highly skilled at what you do is important. You value excellence and when you strive for this and work with integrity and respect for the system, you are promoted.

Reflect on how important money and accumulating wealth is to you. OK, you do not want to compromise integrity, health or happiness for it, but it is important. Money is like a tree that grows over time, but for its success it needs pruning back, constant attention, moisture, warmth and fertiliser. Some of these things are under your control, others not. But when you value your responsibilities and work in tandem with nature, things flourish. You attract money through your dedication and commitment in what you do. It may take time, but money grows well on your tree of life.

YOUR PERSONAL INCOME

"The art of living easily as to money is to pitch your scale of living one degree below your means."

Sir Henry Taylor, English Dramatist and Poet

The Second House

Astrological tradition has always associated the 2nd House with money and the accumulation of assets. When astrologers are asked questions like 'will I be rich?' and 'how will I make money?' the 2nd House of the Horoscope is the first place to consult. Therefore, it is an important consideration in this report.

The 2nd House suggests material riches and also innate resources that can be developed and valued. These are the resources of our personality such as our unique strengths, skills and talents which can be exchanged for income or other rewards. Wealth is multifaceted and not only about money; for some it may be health, peace, family, security. Having found the wellspring of our talent, wealth follows.

This section also describes what we invest with value or what we appreciate and like. This may or may not be money. Psychologically this is the sphere where self-esteem and personal values are shaped by your early experiences. Self-worth, the impact of family values, the substance and significance you place upon your efforts, income received or value returned are all important to varying degrees. What is pleasant? In our post-modern world what is pleasurable often requires money; but another form of pleasure is experienced through apprenticeship and mastery of our skills and talents, not necessarily through economic management.

Included in this report is a portrait of the Zodiac Sign on your 2nd House cusp and what astrologers call its Ruler. The description of your ruling planet in its House adds another key to unlocking your attitude to money and also whether or not you place importance on money or elsewhere. This ruler is unique in each horoscope.

As far as money is concerned what is most important is whether or not you have a planet in the 2nd House. These 2nd House planets reveal your earning style and suggest how you earn your living or your patterns and relationship to money and possessions. You can liken the planets in the 2nd House to the importance that you place on money, the role that it plays in your life and perhaps the complexes you have about money.

Jupiter is in the 2nd House

Planets in the 2nd house are forces that shape your worth and value and help you to understand your innate resources. Forging an alliance with this energy can create a supportive and positive approach to your own sense of worth. Jupiter, the largest planet in our solar system, brings its generous and open-hearted spirit into the realm of your finances and earning capacity. Jupiter promises a lot but sometimes does not deliver. There are big ideas but sometimes this is just inflation. On one hand this placement suggests a positive and confident approach to making a living, as well as an ability to be financially prosperous. Yet on the other hand this might reveal a sense of entitlement and superiority. Finding the right balance is the key to being successful; use your optimism, but be careful not to be taken in by exaggerated prospects about becoming rich.

With Jupiter in your 2nd House it is also important to consider the way that you spend money. This might be in big spurts or lashing out on something very pricey. Perhaps it is best to take stock about what is valuable; for instance, travel would be a good investment for you. Spending money on learning something meaningful or developing your career prospects would also be of value. Money allows you to stretch yourself beyond the limits that were there at the beginning and this is what the value of money is really: to take you beyond the boundaries of your upbringing.

Lady luck is often considered to be Jupiter's partner, therefore, in the 2nd House this suggests that you too might be partnered by wealth. At the very least this might suggest that there are more times when the wheel of fortune is rising than falling. Again, that is the promise; therefore, you need to take advantage of the good times, as these times can be very lucrative for you. It is during thriving times that you can build your wealth. One of your great assets is your faith and optimism and when you project this positive attitude onto money and earning your living it works its spell for you. You have a Midas touch when needed and are able to turn around difficult situations to make them work for you. But remember Midas; everything he touched turned to gold. When it came time to eat and drink food and water also turned golden and he was unable to survive this way. Moderation and a sense of reflection are necessary.

When you feel dispirited or depressed you may over invest or become blinded to realistic possibilities that exist. It is important to differentiate between when you are in touch with the authentic sense of possibilities and when you are inflated. Therefore, take an inventory of your most resourceful assets. Most probably these will be your spontaneity, insight, vision, faith in the future, optimism, generosity and enthusiasm. These and your confidence and leadership abilities will pay off. Just acting successful and being confident are the forerunners to actual success.

Jupiter is associated with philosophies, ideologies and concepts. Therefore, money-making projects involved in expanding people's understanding of themselves and the world around them or administering to individual's religious and soul-needs could be successful for you. You may feel drawn to educating and inspiring others to a greater understanding or feel the need to work in travel or dealing with international concerns. Your great skill is in sharing knowledge with others and there may be many ways that this may manifest in your earning a living. The search for meaning is entwined with making a living and it is very important that you feel your job is meaningful and purposeful or you lose spirit. When you lose this spirit and optimism you also lose touch with your innate resources and capacity to earn a good living. Therefore, meaning in what you do is optimum. Jupiter represents the quest for meaning and in the corporate world money and human values can become confused. Therefore, it is worthwhile reflecting on the significance of money and what value it has in your life.

With this placement we might be inclined to say you could be a prophet of profits. In other words, you could be successful at being the advertising manager of a bank or financial institution. Or you might do well at educating people about their investments or coaching others how to use the markets. You have a wide range of resources but ultimately you need to feel inspired and find meaning in how you make money. There are two kinds of profits in your life. One comes from being engaged and happy in what you are doing; the other from searching for something meaningful.

Chiron is in the 2nd House

A planet in the 2nd House is a presence that helps to create a supportive and positive approach to your sense of worth and value. Chiron is not categorised as a planet, but contemporary astrologers use this celestial maverick to understand a depth of the human experience not revealed by the other planetary energies. Chiron represents what is disenfranchised and marginal, what is outside the system. Therefore, being in your 2nd House of money, it reveals that your experience of financial and material security may not have been mainstream. In fact, money may feel alien to you. In your earlier years there may have been financial hardship or insecurity that might have left its wound on your feeling resourceful or valued. Chiron can point to an ancestral wound; perhaps there may have been difficulties in the family history with money or a loss of possessions and resources in the past.

On the other hand, the opposite could also be true; financial wealth and prosperity may have left you feeling an outsider. In turn this affects your attitudes towards money and security. This placement suggests that in the realm of finances, money, income and resources you have felt outside the system and this feels like a wound you need to heal or a pattern that needs addressing. On a psychological level this suggests that familial values may have damaged your sense of personal worth and value and this has influenced the way you think about earning your living and your attitudes towards wealth. Ironically part of your healing process will be through earning your living and finding financial security in the world.

It is important to reflect on your vocational urges and attitudes towards money to uncover the patterns that may contribute to your feeling impoverished. The question you might reflect on is: how might I accept my unique, yet out-of-the-ordinary attitudes towards wealth and work with these to be successful? Chiron suggests that you will be masterful at helping others recover their sense of personal power and self-esteem. You will also be skilful at helping others find the right ways to invest their money, tap into their own resources or earn a living in their own way. Therefore, it is possible that you will feel compelled to help others who feel disadvantaged or volunteer for working with the underprivileged. When you realise that you do not need to follow the herd, you do well at accumulating assets and building wealth.

Chiron in your 2nd House also suggests that on a psychological level there may be a wound to your sense of self-worth, value and ability to sustain yourself in the world. One reaction to this might be that you compensate for this feeling through money and possessions. Ownership might dull the feelings of lack of worthiness for a while. However, the healing journey is through facing the demons that put down your sense of self. Then your relationship to money and materiality become more authentic and supportive.

Another pattern connected with your Chiron can be the renunciation of material goods and money, as emotional and financial security may have become polarised. You may have a feeling that money has damaged the well-being of your soul. Therefore, to reject money is to stay clear of its wounding. However, the split only grows wider as the key to understanding Chiron is that you return to the source of the pain to be healed. If financial control or money has been the wounding agent then you must find a way to relate to it for the pattern to be healed.

While you may feel handicapped when it comes to resources or making money, destiny will place you in the path of others who need your guidance, wisdom and support. Therefore, it is possible that you could earn your living working with refugees, the homeless, the handicapped or social work vocations which aid the underprivileged and the outcast. Vocationally you could also be drawn to a myriad of holistic healing professions or alternate healing practices, which attempt to work with the integration of the body and the mind. Or at some point you might earn income using other new age healing modalities life channelling and Reiki as well as time honoured traditions such as dream therapy or astrology that use imagery and symbols as a healing tool. Chiron was also a mentor and teacher and therefore, is also connected with mentoring professions such as life coaches, mentors, inspirational teachers and guides. This aspect of your horoscope suggests that healing will come through earning your income and developing an authentic and appropriate relationship to money and the material world.

The 2nd House is truly a house of incarnation. Here you must put into practice what you have received. With Chiron here you need to be less literal about the pains or the gains of money and have a relationship with it. Then you will find out you have a unique and uncommon gift.

You have no planets in your 2nd House of your Birth Chart which suggests that while money is important, it might not be a compelling focus in your life, nor as dominant or intriguing as others might find. Like everyone else you have an income and you own possessions, however; these are unlikely to be the centre of your life. Since the planets symbolise the multiplicity of human impulses, your attitude towards money is not complicated by their intensity. In fact, you may need to read another type of report or consult a professional astrologer for further information about the crucial areas of your life. While you may relate to the information provided about money other areas of your life experience are likely to be highlighted. Money is pleasant but not the principal focal point so the questions to ask are: "What is most important in my life?" and "How can I focus on these areas?" However, you do have a sign and its ruler on your 2nd house cusp and these images will describe your natural orientation to money matters, as follows.

2nd House Cusp is in Libra

The Zodiac Sign Libra is on the cusp of your 2nd House, revealing ways to enhance your sense of self-esteem and personal worth. Appreciating your skills at diplomacy and tact, your sophistication and refinement as well as your relational skills will go a long way to helping you feel successful and valued. You appreciate a sense of fair play, peace and harmony in your life especially in the work place. Your innate skills in dealing with others suggest that you have an instinct about what is right. Your ability to compromise, see all sides of the situation and negotiate a fair outcome is a valued skill and one that will help you become valued and prosperous. This know how might lead you into vocations working alongside others or where negotiation, diplomacy, communication, bargaining, mediation, reconciliation or teamwork are a vital aspect of your work. Your diplomatic skills also come in handy in hospitality and creating pleasant and friendly professional atmospheres. All these are possibilities where you can earn income.

Libra is the Sign of balance. This Sign's influence in the income sector of your horoscope suggests that you need to value an even-keeled approach to making money and creating your life style lifestyle. Money becomes less available as you become more unbalanced or out of sorts. You have an appreciation of art and beauty and value the refined things in life. Your tastes develop as you mature and being able to afford good quality and beautiful things is important. But what is also important is that you invest in these things of beauty as they add value to your sense of self. However having beautiful things is not important enough to risk being out of control or in great debt, as you also value your independence and ability to make the right choices. When you find yourself spending lots of money on beautiful things but still feel unattractive, then money has become a defence. You may compensate for feeling under valued by spending money. You like order and feeling that you are seesawing back and forth by trying to keep up is unsettling and anxiety producing. Therefore, balance is the key in your lifestyle choices.

The secret to success, feeling valued and in step is in developing solid relationships and friendships. You value being part of a team, the other half, or an intimate friend and this affords you a great sense of worth. This also suggests that you may derive your income from a partnership or have investments with others. What it suggests is that you have the knack of how to make money for others and also be lucrative as part of a team. Therefore, it is necessary to be clear and contractual in your financial dealings with partners and friends. You have an innate skill at negotiation, in developing of fair-trade practices and contracts; therefore, it is important that you do this for yourself. Justice and fair play are important in your portfolio and you need to remember this when forging your own work agreements, mutual investments or work contracts. Once you clearly negotiate your own values and share these with others, you feel free enough to be wealthy. You may be humble, but money is important as you value quality and class and these are not inexpensive.

Since Libra is on your 2nd House cusp, the opposite Sign Aries rules your 8th House. This House polarity in the horoscope symbolises the difference between mine and ours, or your attitudes and reactions to sharing resources with others. The 2nd House is your bank account, but the 8th is the joint account. With Libra on the 2nd you already value sharing your resources with others or spending money on others. Ironically it is through intimate and business relationships that you learn to put yourself first financially. You find that once you do that, it is natural for you to share; you feel in safe hands as you have taken care of yourself. You learned the lesson from splitting the bill equally too many times and finding that you spent more on your meal than anyone else did. Resources are not only materialistic. With this combination your resources grow when you share your talents with those who respect your worth and value.

Ruler of 2nd House is Venus ...and Venus is in the 5th House

Venus has an instinctual relationship with money. This is the earthy side of her nature. But she is also the goddess of love; therefore, she is often caught up in the entanglement of money with love, as if money were a literal sign of love and value. At emotional levels money troubles are not always about just money, but more about the lack of feeling valued or supported, not loved for who you truly are or not being appreciated. As we know arguments between lovers about money are rarely about money, but mostly about intimacy, affection and not feeling longed-for. So how does money mesh in the best possible way with our self value and our capacity to feel loved and valued? Being in the 5th House suggests the love and appreciation of performing, whether that's on a stage, in a classroom or at home. This placement reveals the pleasure derived from having fun, contacting the inner and outer child as well as an appreciation of the arts and entertainment. Finding value in the arena of self-expression, children, and amusement also suggests this is where you may find financial resources. This is a risk area. And the main risk is to what extent you can rely on your own talents, resources and creativity to give you your sense of worth. The more you take the risk to be self expressive, creative, passionate about your skills and express what you value and appreciate the more you find your worth and financial stability. In a way we could suggest money is a game; therefore, best to learn the rules and find out what works for you. But your chart is suggesting it is intimately bound up with your ability to be self-determined, creative and expressive. Like a child play the game of money.

SHARING YOUR INCOME

"Money, it turned out, was exactly like sex, you thought of nothing else if you didn't have it and thought of other things if you did".

James Baldwin, American novelist and social critic

The Eighth House

While the 8th House is the House of sharing, astrologers call this the House of STD: sex, taxes and death. Another version of the key initials STD and this house is "sexually transmitted debt". The 8th House seems to be where love and trust get entangled with money. When the seal of trust is broken the joint finances are too! So it is important to look at this area of the Horoscope to consider how you best deal with money when others are involved. This could mean your family of origin, your intimate partner or business partner, even your bank and financial advisor. The 8th House is opposite the 2nd House and therefore forms the natural polarity between what is mine and what is ours. The 2nd House could be thought of as your personal worth, your cash flow on a daily, weekly, monthly or yearly basis. The 8th House then could be considered your overall worth, the dam or the reservoir of your full value. Its mystique is in the depth of its values.

The ancient astrologers' view of the 8th House was mainly about death and questions concerning loss especially gains from loss, such as inheritances or debts. Death and debts are still linked together in our words such as mortgage and amortise. While the modern usage of amortise is a gradual payment of debt, in earlier usage it was withholding property after death. While mort refers to death, amor refers to love. This is the mysterious 8th House amalgam between death, debt and love. A more contemporary outlook scrutinises the 8th House for the link between intimacy and prosperity as well as the capacity for sharing resources. In an emotional sense the 8th House is about comfort with intimacy and this becomes a barometer of your ability to share money with those you love.

As the House of inheritance, it is the territory where you claim your familial legacy either psychologically, emotionally or financially. Unearthing your ancestral inheritance may not be as straightforward as you would wish, but the astrological nature of your 8th House will help you to reflect on your familial past and the attitudes towards money and love that you have inherited. The 8th House has also been traditionally associated with the landscape of the underworld. This of course is metaphoric of the unseen inheritances and legacies from the past; hence we might imaginatively think of the 8th House as where we could communicate with the dead. This sphere is where we encounter some skeletons in the family closet that might help reclaim our legacy. It is wise to remember that in antiquity the underworld was the source of buried treasure. Regent of the underworld was Pluto, the god of riches; hence the 8th House is also an area in the horoscope of hidden wealth.

Hidden in this house might also be family issues and legacies about money, wills and desires. Lurking in the familial past may be motifs such as emotional manipulation through money, debt, disputes regarding inheritances, the loss of family money or a deep-seated attitude towards financial control. What was the attitude towards debt or borrowing money that you inherited? What were the familial attitudes towards sharing resources? The 8th House is the place where the two sides of the family merge into one. Psychologically the 8th House reveals the capacity for or the lack of familial intimacy and closeness; therefore, planets here will not only describe the family inheritance, but secret alliances and taboos in the family. Interred in the 8th House are the familial gains and losses which are passed down through the generations. These gains and losses might be financial as in monetary bequests and inheritances or a familial story of debt. In many cases the gains and losses are emotionally based. The Zodiac Sign on the cusp of the 8th House is the gateway to this intimate area and as such is important in considering how you access this part of yourself. Ultimately the question is how much do you trust yourself to make the right decision in love and money?

As a barometer of closeness, the 8th House refers to the degree of parental intimacy that was experienced growing up. You observe your parents' trust of one another with money and resources. How were they able to share what they had with one another on and what were the primal patterns that you first felt in terms of sharing emotionally and lovingly? Arguments about money are often never really about money but the sense of feeling unloved, unacknowledged or unmet. The template of how you might share your personal resources with others you love is set down early in the atmosphere of the family and affects your feelings of financial trust in adult life. The attachment, emotional security and parental issues of your early life, yet not resolved, will be prone to being re-experienced in an adult way through intimate relationships. You also 'marry' into or relate to your partner's psychological, emotional and financial composition. The will and testament of those who have passed exert their influence on the emotional well-being of those in the present and issues concerning legacies, will, inheritance, shared resources and family trusts are all part of this terrain. Wills of the 8th House also refer to the will of those who have past and still exert emotional and financial control.

The 8th House is a house of mystery and mastery in being true to your deepest self while participating in the world. It depicts how the currents that flow within the financial world, the economic cycles and seasons influence the money market and you. In the 8th House you can see your ability to tune into subtle energies, and to act with integrity and utilise them for your own and others better good. From the perspective of money the 8th House will help you reflect on your buried treasures, your capacity to share and enjoy the pleasures of life with others, your legacies and inheritances as well as the patterns that either keep you indebted to others or able to be resourceful in relationship. Much of the 8th House is a mystery, a secret even unto yourself but this report helps you try to understand what this compelling place means for you.

8th House Cusp is in Aries

The Zodiac Sign Aries is on the cusp of your 8th House, which is the key to opening this area of shared resources. The Aries qualities of courage and adventurousness are ones that rest on the fulcrum between your attitudes to relationship and your sharing resources. When considering relationships you might feel idealistic and optimistic, even romantic, perhaps easy going; therefore, you may not have weighed up what it might mean for you to become intimately involved with another financially and emotionally. When you do begin to reflect on what sharing resources might mean for you, you will be challenged with a different set of guidelines and that is to put your needs and desires first. Not always an easy step for you.

Firstly, it is important to consider how to differentiate what you want and need emotionally and financially from others, especially intimate partners. You may have a tendency to accept what your partner wants or go along without having been clear about your financial and emotional goals. In fact, you might find it difficult to have a different agenda from your partner, yet in essence it is having different opinion and needing different things that actually fuel the passion of the relationship. While you do value harmony and ease you will find that speaking up for your own desires need not be problematic; it may actually be liberating. If your partner does not respond or meet your aspirations and desires then it might be important to readdress the balance in your relationship. A first rule of thumb for emotional integrity and therefore financial security is to speak up for your own needs without fear of being self-interested or offensive. And be prepared to support your needs and carry your own financial plans through without always involving your partner. However you do need to be upfront and honest about all your financial dealings with your partner as integrity and honesty are the keys to your feeling free in this area.

Therefore, note that when dealing with others financially, such as business partners, financial managers or loans officers, be sure to hold fast to your agenda, not theirs. Before you enter into any financial agreements make sure you are aware of what you want, your principles, and your schedule before you commit to anything. You might be swayed by someone else's vision which while filled with possibilities and potential is not the opportunities you need or want. No doubt you appreciate sharing and being in tandem with others, but when it comes to investing your resources in someone else's ideas or vision, remember you are best being entrepreneurial. Think of your self first is the key.

Secondly ponder whether your relationship with money needs to have an element of risk. Do you need to take the initiative financially in your relationship and if so how might you bravely assert your independent spirit and bravado. Do you need to be challenged to find these innate assets? Can you learn to trust your instincts? And perhaps finances are not as important as the freedom and spontaneity within your relationships. In fact, we could argue with Aries here the more spontaneous and emotionally open you are in your intimate relationships the wealthier you feel. .

Ponder the attitudes you inherited from your family of origin about building your financial portfolio. Part of your self-mastery will be to identify this legacy and whether it supports your authentic view of wealth creation. You will need to work on separating the negative patterns about making money speculatively or independently and recognise how much the family attitudes support your financial desires. Perhaps part of your fate is to always have to assert yourself against those close to you when it comes to your attitudes and outlook about money and the way you invest, share and spend it. This could mean a clash of wills about financial control; never mind a challenge suits you.

Whether this means you may have to fight for your inheritance is not clear, but what is clear is that Aries acts best from its deeper instincts and this is the place you need to find in yourself so you know the best action to take when approaching your resources and those you share with others. .

Ruler of 8th House is Mars

...and Mars is in the 11th House

When the dynamic planet Mars rules the 8th House of your Birth Chart this indicates that you are fairly gung-ho when it comes to making the most of your finances. This can work in different ways. You may be reckless when it comes to money, spending your own and other people's without real care for the consequences. You see money as a means to an end and your investments reflect this belief. On the other hand you may have a strong interest in other people's resources, expending much energy on different methods of accumulating wealth. Prosperity interests you greatly. You are keen to make the most of the resources that come your way. This can be interpreted as a drive to achieve financial success, or occasionally it can often turn out to be a passionate interest in the occult. With this placement you are keenly interested in the cycles of life, the economic cycles, sexual ones and seemingly inexplicable events. You have a strong drive for any or all of these things. While you are eager to make the most of the resources that come your way, other influences will determine your level of success. For instance, are you too aggressive or can you restrain your ardour? Acquisitiveness is not an attractive quality, so you need to be careful that you do not alienate others in your eagerness to conquer the material world. On the other hand you can be a great motivator and inspiration for others, showing them the way to make the most of their resources. In your case, your friends and associates play a prominent role in helping you achieve your desire for wealth. It is possible that your definition of success involves working with or for other people, helping them achieve their material and/or spiritual goals. Although the planet Mars indicates a strong drive to express yourself, In your case, this assertive planet is in the 11th House of groups and group service. Clubs, social groups, organisations and other such gatherings are likely to be closely linked to your assets and ability to gather resources.

YOUR FORTUNE

"I have always believed, and I still believe, that whatever good or bad fortune may come our way we can always give it meaning and transform it into something of value."

Hermann Hesse, Novelist, Poet and Painter

The Part of Fortune

Fortune has come to mean money and wealth; yet in the ancient world it referred to chance or luck. Both are interconnected. In your Horoscope you will have a "Part of Fortune" an astrological point which suggests some clues about your quality and share of fortune be that chance or capital. One of astrology's first authorities Ptolemy suggested that the Part of Fortune was primary to the circumstances that regulate the 'fortune of wealth'.

The Part of Fortune is constructed from the three highly significant positions of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant that were discussed in the first section. In this section all three are merging to create an astrological image connected to our personal fortune. This report uses the formula dependent on whether you are born at night or if you were born during the day when the Sun was above the horizon. The Part of Fortune is an amalgam of body, soul and spirit. The Ascendant represents the physical environment and your levels of vitality, it is a primary gauge for well-being both in terms of health and wealth. Your Sun represents vital force, the spirit of health and heart, while your Moon symbolises the emotional and soulful aspects of being secure in the world. Since the alchemy of all three create the Part of Fortune, it came to be seen as an image of well-being, connection, security and being well-placed in the world. This was considered to be prosperity; an ability to be supported by the world and access its abundant resources.

The Part of Fortune is also known as the Lot of Fortune. In ancient Greece, the concept for fate suggested a lot, a portion or what we were allotted in the lottery of life. The Greek word for fate was 'moira' and the Moirai were the three weavers of fate; those who measured, allocated and cut the threads of one's life. With this lot, the ancient astrologers recognised that the tapestry created by weaving the three threads of the Sun, Moon and Ascendant together would be fortunate. To the Romans, Fortuna was chance and she spun the Wheel of Fortune. This wheel reminds us not only of the wheel of the zodiac, but the natural cycles and rhythms of life. Fortune is not static but cyclical by nature; hence the Part of Fortune becomes a powerful symbol in your chart that points to your lot on the wheel of fortune. In a contemporary way the placement of the Part of Fortune is where you honour and petition the goddess of chance and acknowledge your share of fortune.

As an ancient symbol in a contemporary context its placement in the Horoscope measures prosperity or where you align with the seed potential of your fortune. Its sign position will help you amplify innate qualities that are destined at times to be prosperous, while its house position will locate the setting to focus on to increase your chances in the lottery of life.

The Part of Fortune is in Aquarius

With the Part of Fortune in Aquarius, the best chances for prosperity come when you are in contact with that inner sense of emotional freedom and space. When you are free from the constraints of a conventional lifestyle and daring enough to do your own thing, then you are in a much better position to feel prosperous. But it is not freedom from others that you seek, but more the lack of restrictions that open up free expression and inventiveness. Therefore, you thrive in an open playing field, in progressive environments where technology creates possibilities or in democratic forums where the focus is on equal rights for all. You are fortunate when you are able to tap your bright and ingenious side, and unregimented enough to see where that leads. Your fortune lies in the possibilities of the future and you are moving towards that.

Having an Aquarian flavour, your Part of Fortune suggests that your affluence is entwined with the wealth of the larger community. How can you feel prosperous when others in your immediate community are not? Therefore, there are two very important strategies to consider. First, until you feel wealthy and prosperous, it is best to be as detached as possible from the lack of fortune you see around you. It is in striving for your own growth that you will instinctually help others. Secondly, when you are resourceful and well-off, then this is the time that you can be philanthropic. It is important to know that your destiny is part of a global one; therefore, you can take advantage of collective movements for your own gains. Part of your fortune is that you can read the trends before they become fully developed and use this skill to your advantage. Saturn rules your lot and it knows where the time is right to take advantage of maximising the potential of the situation. It is in that sense of timing, reading the signs and being available to imminent opportunities when your fortunes on the wheel begin to rise.

The Part of Fortune is in the 5th House

When your Part of Fortune is placed in the 5th House of your Birth Chart then you need to develop your originality and creative flair in order to encourage prosperity. Traditionally this might be read as gains through children, perhaps projects or industries that centre on children's needs. Or more simply, it could refer to the joy of being a parent or re-experiencing the enchantment of childhood. On a soulful level we might think of this as the enjoyment that comes from being creative and giving birth to new ideas, projects and activities. Approaching life through the eyes of a child, protected by innocence and enthused by possibilities is rewarding. Setbacks are part of the process. You triumph in the end by not complicating your creativity with feelings of disappointment and disillusionment. You are fortunate when you approach life wide-eyed and animated about the outcome, like that first time you broke open that Chinese cookie to find your fortune inside. This is not blind optimism but a deeper knowing that the outcome will be positive. Something fortunate is embedded in the heart of your inspiration, enthusiasm and creative talent; perhaps it is that strong will to succeed, but it also might be your determination not only to win but thrive.

The 5th House is like entering a theatre complex, an amusement ground, a sport and leisure centre, a casino or a quaint inn. Perhaps inside these arenas you find your fortune, but more likely it is when you allow time to play and be amused you feel lucky and privileged. Chance and risk play a large part when you spin the Wheel of Fortune. It is not luck that brings your fortune, but your persistence at being positive, your creative involvement and your attitude towards life. Destiny will repay your generosity through creative opportunities and risks that pay off.

CONCLUSION

"Someone is sitting in the shade today because someone planted a tree a long time ago"

Warren Buffett, American Business Magnate

Once upon a time, monks entering religious service were required to take a vow of poverty. Even though the Church was far from impoverished, this vow was designed to turn the initiate's gaze away from the acquisition of possessions to participation in a communal and spiritual life. Christian teaching suggested it was easier for a camel to squeeze through the eye of a needle than a moneyed man to get into heaven. From this religious viewpoint it was believed that money corrupts and detracts from salvation. Infatuation with riches was considered diametrically opposed to the religious impulse. In the Christian era, the marketplace and the church were seen to be at odds with one another. These beliefs seem to be a long time ago. Or are they?

As mentioned the root of money takes us back to the Roman goddess Juno Moneta, who has helped us reflect on our relationship with money. As the protector of funds Moneta came to be associated with Juno through the following legend. When the Roman army was faltering, out of resources and demoralized, they prayed to Juno for guidance. The goddess advised them that if their cause was just and they fought for what they believed in, then money would be forthcoming. With a reinvigorated spirit the soldiers continued their battle and money and resources arrived from Rome. From this point forward money was minted in the temple of Juno Moneta as a reminder that when there was genuine need and realistic values, then money would follow. From the earliest times money has been associated with the divine, a symbol of the goddess' fortune.

Moneta was also the Latin name for Mnemosyne, the goddess of Memory and the mother of the Muses. Moneta was also said to remind us, at times warn us, of our relationship with money. Therefore, Moneta re-minds us that money is not just a literal matter but connected to the emotional and soulful realm of human experience, the sphere where astrology can be so revealing. Embedded in your Horoscope is an instinctual approach to your values and money. Understanding your own astrological relationship to money can help you be more aware of personal values and your unique approach to money matters. In turn this then helps you learn how to make the most of the money you earn and maximise your prosperity.
